WHISKEY TRUST IS SOLD

THE REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE GETS CONTROL OF THE PROPERTY.

The Property Sold Does Not Include All That Was Owned by the Old Trust-It Was Also Sold Subject to a Lien to Secure Certain Payments-New Company Has Been Formed Under Illinois Laws.

Chicago, Aug. 14 .- The property of the whiskey trust was sold at auction on the court-house steps here to-day. The sale proved a mere formality, as the only bidder was the reorganization committee, whose bld of $9,800,000 was ac cepted. When General McNulta, receiver of the trust, accented for bids Levy Meyer, of counsel for the reorganization committee, renewed the bid of $9,800,000 contained in the decree of sale on condition that the receiver prosecute the suits for over a million dollars as provided in the decree and also on condition that all the terms of the decree are carried out to the letter. He then handed General McNulta a certified check for $50,000. Ten minutes were allowed for other bids and at the expiration of that time the property was declared sold to the reorganization committee for the sum offered. The property sold does not include all that was owned by the old trust. Seventeen distilleries, the cream of the lot were selected by the reorganization committee, for purchase besides the office building at Peoria. The property is sold subject to a lien to secure certain payments.

The reorganization committee must pay in cash only such proportion of the um of $9,800,000 as the total number of shares not controlled by bears to the total capital stock of the company, but it must pay the balance of the purchase price from time to time to the extent necessary to meet claims ordered paid by the court. General McNulta retains a lien on all the property of the trust as security that the terms of the sale shall be carried out, and the court reserves the authority to retake possession of the property in the event that its assets are wanted. The new company, which will be called the American Spirits Manufacturing company, was incorporated under the laws of Illinois. The directors are elected and the names will probably be made public to-morrow.

FOOTE WAS GREAT.

Excitement Intense at the Narraganse Tennis Matches.

Narragansett Pier, Aug. 14,-"Finweather and red hot tennis," said Sec etary J. T. Whittlesey of the United States Lawn Tenn's association as he watched the semi-final matches this norning in the doubles between Wrenn and Chace versus Paret and Fischer and the contest of Foote and Howland versus Budlong and Talmage.

The western champions, the Neels, sat n the scorers' chairs and while calling the scores watched to see their future opponents for the "all-comers."

The Wrenn and Chace versus Paret and Fischer match proved to be tamer than was expected. Fischer was wild in his strokes and although Paret worked hard, covering a great deal of ground he could not play for himself and partner, too. Wrenn and Chace played at close quarters near the net constantly and won, 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

The other semi-final match was inwas omnipresent with his heavy ground strokes. On the other side Budlong was in great form and he made many a clean stroke all down the alleys. Talmage played brilliantly, hitting short returns cross-court that won many strokes. Foote's and Howland's great work at the net won them the first set, which was not settled until sixteen exciting games were played. Budlong and Talmage had the score 5-3 in their fayor, but their poor team work and the harder hitting of their opponents de cided the sets. The points: First set-Foote and Howland-3, 4, 0, , 1, 4, 0, 1, 7, 5, 1, 4, 5, 1, 4, 4-50 points, Foote was simply great in his smashing in the second set and Howland was not behind in helping his partner. Their opponents were ratchr unsteady and to anxious to kill returns. Budlong's backhand strokes proved puzzling to his opponents, but he and Talmage clashed a good deal.

Casino singles: First round-Foote defeated Davis, 6-2, 6-4, and Paret Stevens and Talmage won by default matches from Wrenn, Goldsborough and Larned.

Consolation doubles: Preliminary round-Reed and Codman defeated Thomson and Bartoly, 6-3, 6-4; Davis and Brooks defeated Herrick and Kearney, 6-3, 6-4.

The only tennis played this afternoon were three matches in the Casino single tournament. The best match was that between Alfred Codman of Hartford and J. C. Davidson, a Wash Washingtons to score five runs in the ington player, who stands high in the southern tournament. Davidson's long reach and careful playing from the bay of the court won him the first set. Cod man was not accurate at critical form and was wild in the fifth. He then points, but smashed well at times. The points:

First set-Davidson, 0, 4, 6, 3, 5, 4, 5

Codman, 4, 1, 4, 5, 7, 1, 3, 1, 4, 0 Davidson hit even harder in the sec ond set. Codman hit too much out of court and into the net after the first half of the set. Steadiness and critical points was also the latter's weakness. The points: Davidson, 2, 5, 0, 8, 4, 4, 8, 4.

Codman, 4, 3, 4, 6, 0, 1, 6, 2, John Howland and young Herrick played at the same time as the previous match. The result was never in doubt, by the younger player gave much promise for the future, and it was interesting to watch how hard he could make Howland work. The latter won,

J. Parmly Paret and E. A. Thompso both of New York, had a close match that was not settled until the last stroke was won, though there was little good tennis. Paret finally managed to win, 6-4, 10-9. During the course of the afternoon the Neels were out practicing. The summary of the afternoon

Casino singles: First round-J. C. Davidson defeated A. Codman, 6-4, 6-2 10-8 J. Howland defeated H. A. Herrick, 6-2, 6-3.

The Approaching International Contest-A Delightful Souvenir Soon to be Issued-A Former New Havener.

Mr. W. J. McCheane of New York city, a former New Havener, is in town representing the interests of the Cambridge-Yale official program, He will, during his stay, secure advertisements from our leading merchants for insertion in the beatiful souvenir book of the Cambridge-Yale games, a copy of which substantially as it will ap pear later he has with him as a specimen. The book contains views of the English colleges, their athletic grounds and buildings; and also gives official scores of the English college games for the past ten years, and much other matter of interest. The book has very handsome illuminated covers and is about twelve inches in length by seven in width. The edition will be a very large one and 25,000 or 30,000 copies will be issued for New Haven alone. The price will be merely nominal, within the reach of every one and the work will be a very pretty and substantial household at traction; and beside the English views Yale news will be given. We bespeak for Mr. McCheane a most favorable reception in this city, his former home his father and mother having resided here back in the '50s and Mr. McCheane himself having been an attache of the 'Journal & Courier" in the employ of the late Mr. John B. # WILL BANKRUPT THE TOWNS

THIS, IT IS SAID, WILL BE THE EF-FECT OF THE BOUNTY ACT.

an Effort May be Made to Have Governor Coffin Call a Special Meeting of the General Assembly to Repeal or Amend the Present Law

The act passed by the general assembly concerning soldiers and sailors a its recent session, entitling them to any is likely, so it is said, to cause no end of trouble and will, it is claimed, if carried out, bankrupt the treasury of nearly every town in the state. The first claim to be made under this act to the town of New Haven was made Tuesday night at the meeting of the selectmen, when Edmund Shelley put in a claim for $1,430. At that time Selectman Bretzfelder stated that the Hill to assist him in transmitting orders, town would be liable to the amount of the crew being the first section of the at least half a million dallars, and it might exceed that amount. It was also stated that if all the claims were paid the town would become bankrupt. This condition of affairs is also caus ng serious anxiety to the other towns of the state, and it is intimated that the towns of the state may in the near future decide to act in concert with a view to avoid paying these claims and thus save themselves from the bank ruptcy with which they are threatened. This is especially the case in the towns of Branford and Madison. Edmund Zacher of this city, who re sides in Branford and is counsel for both towns, has advised both towns to decline to pay the bounty until the last possible moment in order that in the meantime an attempt may be made to have the present law repealed, even if it should be necessary to call a special session of the general assembly to ac omplish this purpose. was stated last evening that an effort would be made immediately to secure concerted action by all the towns of the state in reference to the matter with a view to inducing Governor Coffin to call a special session of the legisla ture to either repeal the law or at least to amend it to such an extent that no interest shall be paid on the claims for bounty money of the veterans. With this object in view the selectmen of the several towns are being communicated He has contracted with the best caterer with in order to determine what steps can be taken in the matter. It is also claimed that Meriden has had so many claims for the bounty and interest presented that were it to pay them all the town treasury would be completely bankrupt. It is also said Waterbury, Derby, Wallingford this city to be held at Lighthouse Grove and other towns in New Haven county are in a similar plight, and Hartford and the other towns are in no better ed with Quartermaster General Disbrow

Nevertheless before breakfast time they began to emerge from the flaps of the various tents and looked about to see what the weather would be. When it was seen that the indications were that the day bid fair to be a beamed with satisfaction, as, although they dread the terrible heat on the field at drills, they dislike more the rainy, cloudy days such as Monday forenoon, Their spirits seem to rise with the thermometers, and the higher this is the less crew the second section of the first com- clothes the men in company streets have on, but the more fun and jolly good nature.

The Second regiment is certainly the panner regiment of the encampment. and its appearance on the drills is by far more soldierly than the rest. They are always complimented by visitors on the camp ground and have everything their skillful maneuvering, and have the gratitude of their officers for their fine military appearance and close attention to duty. That the regiment is onsidered the crack one of camp is shown by the fact that it was yesterday chosen as escort to Governor Coffin on his arrival in camp to-day The boys manage to mingle some good imes with their camp life, and "life is not all a blank" with them. The Third regiment continues to praise highly C. A. Bradley for his efficient management of their mess Naval Militia who hope to be able to house, and the excellent food they get, while to-day the boys of the Second regiment say they can observe a great change for the better in food since the kick yesterday. Commissary General Peck of this city has been constantly on the go since arriving in camp, and his opportunity for leisure came this afternoon. He has his splendid system of food and mess house inspection now in full working order, and receives reports twice each day from the commissary sergeants detailed for the purpose, concerning the condition of uncooked foods, while after each meal a report is made to him from the same source of the cooked foods, waiter service, etc. The system of blanks on which to make these reports works finely, and whenever any deficiency is noted on any of them General Peck in person warns the caterer of whom complaint is made that things complained of must be better. The desired changes are then soon made. There is perhaps of Congress avenue. He also sent a boy no part of the day's routine gone through so easily and pleasantly by the boys as is the falling in for mess call. Guns and accoutrements are then laid aside, and from all over the camp may be seen the blue masses, not pills

General Haven and staff, who met him Edith of Seymour are at New Haven at the depot, and the fine appearing Second regiment as an escort. As soon as the governor's party appeared on on the shore at the east end of camp commenced the salute and fired thirteen guns in honor of the distinguished arrival. The governor and party proceeded at once to the governor's tent, juts back of the reviewing stand, over Seymour Poultry association was held which had been unfurled the state flag. General Haven and staff dismounted and saluted as the governor passed them on his way to his quarters, while the gallant Second were lined up on each side and presented arms as he passed through. At each side of the placed two streamers on standards bearing the single word, "Connecticut," printed on a blue field.
